THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Joseph P. Wergin

The Congress has thrived on volunteerism, and now we are looking for a couple of dedicated individuals who would like to help in starting a CRIBBAGE MUSEUM. We have so many items that should not be lost or discarded as the organization nears its tenth year of existence.

It will take space to store the memorabilia until the Hall of Fame and the Museum become a reality.

There were 16 seventh graders registered in the cribbage class at Orchard Ridge Middle School in Madison, Wisconsin, the last week in May. This scribe again taught the group, who had no previous experience with the game. They loved it! However, it was noted that some of the students had not mastered the simple fundamentals of addition. But they did improve in that week.

For the horse lovers, Prominent had her first foal, a filly, on Easter Sunday. Hal Janel is expecting about August 1. Like all babies, Misty is a beauty.

From the Southwest — you will hear a lot about John Ranne of Tucson in the future. He has volunteered to get his territory of Yuma/Tucson/Albuquerque organized in the Cactus League.

If you know of crib players who will be wintering in the Southwest, send their names, home addresses, and winter addresses to the writer. We are expecting a great program, as letters are also coming in from the San Diego retirement people.

It was hard to believe! Time has passed so quickly! This writer attended the 55th anniversary of graduation from the University of Wisconsin. There were about 36 people from the Class of 1932 present at the reunion. Of course, now you can compute my age.

What is wrong with cribbage promotion in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, the Dakotas, and several others? Why don't we have programs in those places?

The answer is very simple. We haven't reached dedicated people who can promote, and the Congress has failed to tell America that there is a national organization with excellent programs and that we want more members.

Very seldom does one get something for nothing. Things have to be paid for. The Congress must raise dues so that it has money to advertise and promote. We should have 15,000 members after eight years instead of less than 5,000. Let's toot our own horn and shout that we do exist and that we want all cribbage players to join us.

EDITORIAL

I know, have met, or have corresponded with every ACC member who ran for the Board of Directors. I wish every one could have been a winner because, regardless of the results, there were no losers, when one judges the calibre of those individuals who ran for the BOD.

For those of you who weren't successful, I urge you to serve and volunteer in some capacity during the year and continue to help the ACC grow and prosper. 1987-88 is a period of reorganization, and there will be plenty for everybody to do. Plan to run again next year.

Congratulations to those 13 who did win. I hope you'll be active, not just at BOD meetings, and will become involved in committees over the next two years. If you do the job you've volunteered for and have been fortunate to be elected, you'll be busy working for those who had faith in you and voted for you.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE ELECTION

- Voter response overall was 42.6% of 4. the total ACC membership, as opposed to 40.6% in 1986 and 16.1% in 1985.
- 2. The Election Committee recorded 5. the postmarks of returned ballot envelopes in order to determine voter response by state/region. Of the envelopes returned, the breakdown is as follows:

West	38.9	(28.3 in 1986)
East	36.7	(33.9 in 1986)
Midwest	24.4	(37.8 in 1986)

Five new members were voted to the BOD; they are: Brandon, Dinwoodie, Julian, McGibney and Read.

- On average, each ACC member who cast a ballot voted for 10.5 candidates as opposed to 7.1 candidates in 1986.
- It appears there was little or no attempt at "bullet" voting, i.e., voting for one or two candidates in order to shut out the opposition. It also seems clear that there was a great deal of regional crossover. Of the 25 candidates, 23 received more votes than their regions produced in There is certainly nothing total. wrong with backing a regional candidate and with pushing to get out the vote, but it's healthy to see geography is not the sole factor in determining how well or poorly a candidate fares.

TO ALL VACATIONERS WIIO PLAY CRIBBAGE

We extend an invitation to join us at the Honolulu Press Club. We are open Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. for lunch, cocktails, and cards! cards! cards! Please let us know that you're a member of the ACC.

Much Aloha, Susan Sanderson, Manager

HUGE RESPONSE TO ARTICLE

A news release that appeared in the June 9 edition of USA TODAY relative to the National Open Cribbage Tournament in Raleigh, North Carolina, generated hundreds of inquiries from all over the nation.

This year marks the 14th anniversary of the National Open, which will be conducted at the North Raleigh Hilton on August 8-10. Tournament Director Nick Pond, needless to say, was quite pleased at the response to the USA TODAY article. The committee is hard at work to make this already fine tournament the biggest and best ever.

PEGGING POINTERS Dan Barlow

Get out your cribbage board and cards; it's time for more tension-filled endgame problems. A lot of prestige, money, and master points are riding on your decisions, but I'm confident you'll come through, because you have a well-earned reputation for not losing your cool in pressure-packed situations.

Problem A

Your opponent needs 6 to go out; you need 18. You hold 4-7-7-8. The cut is a 7.

	The Play
Opponent		You

- 1. Do you play the 4 or the 8?
- 2. What do you play if opponent needs 8?
- 3. What do you play if opponent needs 17?

Problem B

Opponent needs 5 to go out; you need 12. You hold A-8-9-10. The cut is a Jack.

The F	Play

ດໍ່	9

- 1. Do you play the Ace or the 10?
- 2. What do you play if opponent needs 7?
- 3. What do you play if opponent needs 9?

Problem C

You hold 2-3-5-K. The cut is a 2. You are too far away to peg out.

	The Play
Opponent		You

9 (25)		5 (30-1)

1. What do you play if opponent needs 6?
2. What do you play if opponent needs 12? (Be careful with this one—either of your cards COULD lose the game, but one of them is less likely to lose. Go with the best odds.)

3. Are there any circumstances under which your opponent could go out from 17 holes away?

ANSWERS

- A-1. Play the 8. Your only fear is that opponent's last card is a 4.
- A-2. Play the 4. You mustn't let opponent peg if his or her remaining card is an Ace. If it's anything else, the game is over no matter what you do.
- A-3. Play the 8, fearing that opponent's last card is a 5. This is your ONLY fear.
- B-1. Play the Ace, fearing opponent's 10.
- B-2. Play the 10, fearing opponent has a
- B-3. Play the Ace, fearing opponent's Jack.
- C-1. Play the 2, fearing opponent's 8.
- C-2. Play the 3. The 3 loses only when opponent's card is a 5, but the 2 loses when opponent's card is a 3 or a 9.
- C-3. Yes. If you play the 2 and opponent's card is a 3, OR if you play the 3 and opponent's card is a 5, opponent will win from 17 holes out IF all four of his/her cards are the same suit as the cut.

IN MEMORIAM

Lisa Palmer

West Springfield, MA

IMPORTANT ADVERTISING IN CRIBBAGE WORLD 1987/1988

The primary function of CRIBBAGE WORLD is to keep the ACC membership informed of what is going on in the various cribbage functions throughout the country. Advertising in our publication has been, through necessity, a sccondary adjunct to our publication. We generally have more material each month than we can use. At the risk of sounding arbitrary, cribbage news should take precedence over advertisements, because cribbage news, however basic it may be, is what our publication is for.

We have turned away several prospective advertisers during the past year because of space limitations. We have twenty 8½" x 5½" pages per month (one of those is a mailing page). The weight of each publication is a shade under one ounce with a tournament insert included. We are currently running 40 column inches of advertising per month from a capacity of 280 column inches, or approximately 15%.

In order to be as fair to as many people as possible, it has become necessary to limit all future single advertisements, beginning in September, to $2\frac{1}{4}$ " high by $4\frac{1}{2}$ " wide. This will allow us to have 10 ads per month as opposed to the present 8. I trust the individuals who are now inserting larger ads will understand that we are attempting to open up as much space as possible to as many as possible. As in the past, those who now advertise will have first option to renew space for the upcoming year.

The ground rules are:

- Advertising space will be available only to ACC members.
- 2. All ads must be camera ready.
- An ad must run a minimum of 6 sequential months (Exception: West Bend and Independence Day Tournaments).
- The format of the ad may be changed as often as desired.
- 5. The cost will be $120 for 6 months and $200 annually. Ads are payable in advance and checks made out to the American Cribbage Congress should be sent to CRIBBAGE WORLD (we will forward to the Treasurer).

All present and potential advertisers are asked to let us know about their advertising plans by August 8, 1987.

If there are areas I have not covered, please write CRIBBAGE WORLD or call (203) 673-4007.

We'll do the best we can to assist as many advertisers as possible; postmarks may be important in determining selection if we have more than 10 potential advertisers.

GRASS ROOTS PROGRAM REGIONALIZATION

Before the new Grass Roots playing schedule begins in September, attempt will be made to decentralize Grass Roots operations on a geographical basis. This will, of course, require the involvement of a number of volunteers who have the necessary time and dedication to work in consonance with one another to realize the tremendous potential of the Program. Anyone who is interested in being a part of this essential step toward the overall goals of the American Cribbage Congress is encouraged to so inform the Grass Roots Program central office.

ATTENTION GRASS ROOTS DIRECTORS

In planning for the ACC Grand National Tournament, Joe Seigle, ACC Board Member and a member of the Hartford Metro Grass Roots Club #26, is offering the Grass Roots Program or any of the individual clubs an opportunity to advertise in the Tournament Program. He also suggests that it might be appropriate to include a Grass Roots Club Directory therein.

LETTERS TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

Bob Gorden (one of our "Oregon's Best" club members was playing Ed Kern of Missoula, Montana, at the Hermiston Tournament's consolation round. In one game, Bob held five consecutive flushes, all in diamonds. They thought this might be enough of an oddity to merit mention.

LETTERS TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

Flying alone halfway across the country to an unfamiliar city to play in a tournament doesn't sound like fun, does it? But if the city is Minneapolis and the tournament the Minnesota Open, it can be terrific. I want to thank John Williams, Jim Mahan, Joy Jerdee and everyone else for their friendliness to strangers and for a great tournament. They were even kind enough to let me win a few.

LETTERS TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

Here is an interesting situation that happened recently.

Six of us meet every Friday afternoon for a round robin cribbage game. We play two games in a row with each of the five opponents.

In the very first game of the day, My opponent was Ivan Lackey. I got a 28 hand, and I lost the game in the dead hole.

In the very next game, Ivan got a 28 hand, and he lost the game in the dead hole.

I thought this was a remarkable coincidence.

Keep up the good work with CRIBBAGE WORLD!

Expansion of the Grass Roots Program divisional structure had to come sooner or later. Eventually \dots Why not NOW ?

Effective immediately, the reporting structure of the Program is expanded from 2 to 6 Divisions, which it is hoped will satisfy several purposes:

- Clubs falling within the same range of Point Production Capability will be assigned to the same Division.
- Reporting procedures will be greatly simplified, and the intent is to decentralize them to the maximum extent possible, without regard to the geographical location of clubs assigned to a given Division. (NOTE: A minimum of six volunteer Division Statisticians will be required to support this function. Anyone interested in taking part in this effort may inquire into the specifics of what they would be expected to do before committing themselves.)
- The new divisional structure can accommodate groups of any size, playing as many as 40 local tournaments in a single season, or as few as they care to schedule during the September-June playing season. The structure is flexible, and is ideally suited to "Snowbird" and "Cactus League" groups. Even well-established cribbage clubs are discovering that in most instances, only minor format changes are required in order for them to be chartered into the Grass Roots Program. For reasons such as these, it was decided that now is the time to "Bite The Bullet", and brace ourselves for unprecedented Program expansion during 1988.

AN IDEA GROWS

Bette Bemis of Carolina, Rhode Island, has started a mail order business for cribbage novelties called Bette's Cribb.

Why did it get started? After several years of searching for prizes for a league that she manages for the South County Masonic Center, which is located in Kenyon, Rhode Island, Bette became frustrated over the lack of cribbage novelties on the market. There wasn't even a skunk pin to be found, in the state that houses the greatest number of jewelry manufacturers in the nation. Not to mention the fact that the plush skunk should be included on the list for extinct animals! Cribbage boards and printed t-shirts were the only options available.

After several years of searching, the level of frustration built up to the point where Bette felt compelled to correct this serious situation. Although she works full time for the State of Rhode Island, Bette began designing some basic items. Friends who were shown the greeting cards thought that they were tacky — but funny and unique. They encouraged her to continue with the project.

On 2/22/87, Bette attended the Central N.E. Open Cribbage Tournament, where she asked fellow cribbage players if they might enjoy having access to cribbage novelties. The response was positive, in spite of the fact that cribbage fans are known to be a no-nonsense group when it comes to their game, unlike bingo buffs, who wear their hobby on their caps, cups, shirts and lapels!

Bette now knows that the tremendous popularity of the 350-year-old game of cribbage is a well-hidden secret from the manufacturers of novelty items, and that is why Bette's Cribb now exists. The current product line consists of t-shirts, pens, crying towels, greeting cards and 2" buttons. Once the business shows growth, other items such as jewelry will be added, although Bette may have to travel as far as Oregon to find those skunk pins!

Advertising presently is limited to word-of-mouth and a brochure, which will be sent to interested parties.
