My Deal

Play smart, play fair, play fast—but mostly play nice

Since joining the ACC in 1998, I have played twenty-two seasons at Club 91 (my original club) and Club 71 (which merged with #91 in 2015). The 2019–2020 season has been, by far, the strangest one ever. Here's a calendar of club events this year:

- weeks 1–26: normal club at our normal venue
- March 16: our venue closes because of coronavirus
- Covid break—fourteen weeks with no cribbage club 😢
- June 23: after quarantine restrictions are lifted, our club resumes on week 27 at a new venue, as our old venue decides to remain closed all summer
- July 11: we play GRNT at a club member's house—seventy-two days after the normal GRNT deadline of April 30
- August 4 & 11: indoor social gatherings in Michigan are restricted to ten people, so we play outdoors on the patio at the American Legion
- August 15: we play a doubleheader in a club member's garage in order to squeeze in the last two weeks before the Grass Roots season ends on August 16—seventy-five days after the normal close of the Grass Roots season on May 31

When the dust cleared, we managed to play all thirty-six weeks of the Grass Roots season, plus both the GRRT and GRNT. Before the quarantine, we averaged 29.8 players per session; after the break, it was 23.3. In total, we had 1,007 players at club this year, for a weekly average of 28 players.

Twenty-two different players took first place during our thirty-six weeks of play, but no one won more than three times. We saw 32 "near slams"-where a player won eight games—but not a single player among our 1,007 attendees was able to complete a grand slam all season!

The coolest stat, however, is that five members of Club earned their Bronze Awards this season (photos at right). 71 earned their Bronze Awards this season (photos at right).

son we've just been through, I will go out on a limb and say that the forecast for next season is Covid-ish with a chance of cribbage. CW

Letters to CW will be printed on a space-available basis and may be condensed or edited for clarity and length (150 words maximum). Send letters to cribbageworld@cribbage.org or PO Box 313, Ada MI 49301-0313. Please include your name, city, and state.

In Harm's Way

I believe the movie Richard Michalec is looking for (see August Cribbage World, page 6) is In Harm's Way.

John Campanella (Holbrook MA)

Robert Redford

Richard Michalec's letter was reference to In Harm's Way, made in 1965. I found this by way of imdb.com, a handy site for finding information about any aspect of motion pictures and television. Speaking of Robert Redford playing cribbage in The Sting, he also can be seen playing cribbage with Morgan Freeman in An Unfinished Life, a movie from 2005. Now the question is, does Bob play cribbage in real life?

John Blinn (Bowling Green OH)

Never Too Late

Just getting started in cribbage (at 78 years young). I joined the ACC just a month ago. Not very mobile anymore, stuck at home due to the virus, and no cribbage players in the family, so I have been playing cribbage solitaire. I am teaching my wife the game so I will soon have a partner. When the pandemic gets relaxed, I'll see if anyone in the town senior center is interested in playing. They play pinochle twice a week, so it may work out. Enjoy reading the archived Cribbage World magazines.

Dennis Skea (Poughkeepsie NY)

Ninety!

I will be ninety years old on September 3. I have been a member of the Madison cribbage club for many years. Joe Wergin was a member of our club, and I can remember when he organized the Grass Roots program and the Madison club became Club #1.

Don Wolf (Madison WI)

Techno-Cribbage World

Recently, I invited my cribbage club director Delette Huffman over to have our first "social distancing" cribbage match. While visiting along the way, we mutually agreed on how good Cribbage World has become. Content, pictures, articles, stats, and trivia leave something for everyone, more so because of the troubling times we're in. I go back to 1985 in the ACC, and we've had a good, steady, reliable publication from your predecessors doing a lot of hard work. But kudos to you and whatever staff you have for the picturesque rising of Cribbage World into the "techno" age!

No 29

About fifteen years ago, I was playing Warren Sondericker in a Grass Roots tournament, when I dealt myself 4-5-5-5-6 and the Jack that gave me chance for a 29-hand. I was dealing from 40 out, with Warren a few pegs behind. Decision time: play the percentages and keep 4-5-5-6 or go for the 29? I kept 4-5-5-6 and the 5 was cut, so I had a 23-hand and a 16-crib and got the skunk. But . . . the 29-hand would have paid $100 in the Grass Roots continued on page 6

The last Cribbage World reminded me of my joining the ACC in the early 1980s. I had written to someone about an application to a big tournament—some kind of "National Cribbage Open" (or something like that). I had no intention of playing in the

Pone's Pegging • by Marty Duchow (Unionville CT)

I enjoyed the article "The Peg-a-Lot Theorem" in the August Cribbage World. Your top pegging for dealer is spot on; there are well-known, probably apocryphal, stories of people pegging this sequence. However, as pone, you identified 16 as the maximum, but I believe the quest to score five points with the second card leaves you two points short. Delay the 15-for-2 another card and you can lay out a sequence that scores 18 for pone before the dealer scores. Here's one sequence:

pone	3		4 (for 3)		2 (for 7)		6 (for 7)		(for 1)
dealer		5		А		7		go

CW responds: thanks, Marty, for the improvement. That's some potent pegging! Marty also found a 17-points-for-the-pone sequence. Can you find this sequence?

Cribbage on Postcards

Sir John Suckling—the patron saint of cribbage—is featured on a postcard published in the early 1910s and mailed from Clinton in the province of Ontario to the village of Blyth, just a few miles, er, kilometers, north of Clinton. It was franked with a common 2¢ George V Canadian stamp.

Part of the "Dream of Fair Women" series published by Raphael Tuck & Sons, this postcard features a painting by Helena Horwitz (a very faint signature can be barely deciphered at bottom left of the artwork). The Tuck firm was founded in London in 1866 and specialized in greeting cards; it capitalized on the postcard boom in the late 1800s and sold its products worldwide.

The quotation comes from a play written by Suckling originally entitled The Discontented Colonel. Written in 1639, first published in 1642, and reprinted in 1646 in Suckling's Fragmenta Aurea, the play is better known as Brennoralt (who is in fact the "discontented colonel"). Set in Poland, the play satirizes the conflict between England and Scotland in the First Bishops' War of 1639, of which Suckling had firsthand experience. Despite the political setting of the play, it contains a ditty sung by some drunken cavaliers (act 2, scene 2, lines 13–15):

Margaret is HAN'S POST CARD 28,28/17 as lousin Interio. A.R. m. 3

She is pretty to walk with And witty to talk with And pleasant too, to think on. Ah, the thoughts that fill the heads of young lovers—even in the time of war! CW

The Magedanz Chronicles

Stories from the Tournament Trail by Dale Magedanz CW's Milwaukee Correspondent

Ski Family At the rescheduled Peg for Pink tournament at Marinette WI, the "Ski family" had a great weekend. In the main Ginny Danielski qualified second with enough points to earn her Life Master (\star). Frank Danielski qualified eighth. Hold the phone. Daughter Jane Vander Loopski and Donna LaFleur won Canadian Doubles.

Host Where is the best place to host a cribbage tourney? Just ask Troy, Kathy, and Clay! ↓ They traveled from Loveland CO and Beatrice NE to direct The Beginning of the End tourney in Wausau WI, kicking off six days of cribbage!

Bad Luck, part 1 Just another day of cribbage. Jeff Gardner deals Buzz Koehler A-A-3-3 and Buzz cuts a 2. Jeff washes the cards and hands them to Buzz to deal. Buzz deals himself A-A-3-3 and Jeff cuts a 2 for back-to-back 16s. Despite that, Buzz loses in the dead hole. If Buzz didn't have bad luck he wouldn't have any luck at all.

Bad Luck, part 2 Lee Behrens and Buzz

Koehler are playing, and Buzz 🗭 has the game well in hand. Dealing 56 out, Lee gets 16-hand а and 16-crib. With Lee now 22 out. he holds 4-5-5-6 and cuts a 6. The saga of Buzz's bad luck continues.

"The Duane Toll" Dewey has always said that he is not afraid to toss A-7 into his opponent's crib. A few years back I started using "The Duane Toll" when I tossed it. My experience is that you get away with it four or five times in a row, but the next one you pay dearly. I need six to go out so I hold six points and toss A-7. I proceed to cut what turns out to be the case 7. I go out—fortunately before my opponent turns over a 24-crib! CW

ACC*Awards*

{Ginny's words} I learned how to play cribbage from Frank's mother at their bar in Antigo WI when we were dating sixty-four years ago. I started playing tournaments thirty-five years ago and joined the

ACC shortly after. Frank and I started the Polish Open Grass Roots club and also ran nine tournaments. The first main I won was in Marinette WI in 1987; I now have two mains and two consolations. My favorite tournament is Reno, where in 2009 I took third place in the JPW Open out of 986 players. My favorite cribbage moment this year came on July 12 when I earned my One Star. Since I haven't won many tournaments, I am proud that I have had five 29-hands, three in tournament play and two in Grass Roots.

Frank and I have been married sixty-two years, have three children, eight grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, so we have attended many ballgames! We enjoy card games and going to casinos.

Lee learned to play cribbage from some guys at work in the 1980s. He joined the ACC in 1989 and looks to Gene Mikulsky and Mick Michaelis as his cribbage mentors. A member of Club 61 in Green Bay he has been club champion four times. His

Bay, he has been club champion four times. His first tournament win was at Eau Claire Classic in 1998, and he now has five mains and two consolations under his belt. His favorite tournaments are all the Marinette tourneys and JPW/ACC Open in Reno-where he won the consy in March. His toughest opponent at club is Al Karr. Non-cribbage interests include yardwork, golf, and his grandkids.

Never Give Up! by Greg Schleusner (Truckee CA)

After losing four of the first five games in the 2018 Independence Day Classic consolation in Reno NV, there was only a minuscule chance of qualifying, needing 10 or maybe 11 game points in the last four games. Roland Hall jumps out to a big lead in game six and has first count needing seven points, while I am just over the skunk line. The cut card is a face card and during the pegging Roland plays 3-3-4. I tell him if he has a 7, I still have a chance so he then turns over the 7 of Diamonds (my new favorite card). I need all three counts and squeak out a win. My cards heat up and I get three skunks in the last three games, which gives me a 13/5 card. No 12/5 cards made the playoffs. My cards stayed hot in the playoffs and I was able to finish on top. Never give up!

Conway Cluster in North Conway NH. But not this year.

Like so many cribbage tournaments across the country, the Conway Cluster fell victim to the coronavirus. Also included among the nonhuman casualties of Covid-19 was that Grande Dame of all tournaments, the National Open held in Raleigh NC.

When Raleigh was canceled, David Campbell, utilizing that initiative and strategic grasp of opportunities for which he was elected ACC President, tentatively rescheduled the Cluster for the now-vacated last weekend in July.

Sure enough, the stars, moon, and Covid curve-flattening in New England aligned for the rescheduled Conway Cluster to be held. But it was very important to David and his fellow tournament directors Mark and Vicki Soule and Lana Newhouse (aka the "Fearsome Foursome") that the tournaments be held safely.

The Foursome benefitted from the excellent protocols established by America's Dairyland, the first post-quarantine sanctioned tournament held in Lake Delton WI on May 29–31. Like that tournament, many measures were taken to protect those ACC members who felt comfortable returning to the cribbage board under the new normal.

Tables were socially distanced greater than six feet apart with one board per table. Both tables and boards were disinfected each day, \rightarrow and hand sanitizer was provided at each board to be used by players before the start of a match. Players were provided with pens and pegs, if they did not have their own, which were used over the four-day period. In addition, each player had their temperature taken (100.4 degrees or higher excluded participation in play) \clubsuit at the start of the day and signed a waiver to play at their own risk.

All ACC tournaments must comply with state regulations in order to be sanctioned. Although the North Conway Grand Hotel did require masks to be worn in the hotel's public areas, the state of New Hampshire does not mandate masks. Consequently, masks were provided to players and their use recommended, but the wearing thereof was the personal choice of each player. Please check out the "Rogue's Gallery" on pages 14–15 herein to view some mask fashionistas.

While a few players had been fortunate enough to compete in recent Wisconsin tournaments, July 23 found many of us Cluster attendees scrubbing the rust off of our game and trying to remember our ACC number (okay, maybe that was just me). While most attendees were from New England, the Eastern Region states of Florida, Virginia, and North Carolina were also represented; as well as Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Nebraska, and Texas from the Central Region; and Oregon, Washington, California, and Colorado from the West.

Not surprisingly, the total number of attendees for all Cluster tournaments added together in 2020 was less than the comparable 2019 number: 302 players versus 366 players. But those players who came to the Cluster came to play, and did so over the several days of competition. No cribbage tournaments had been held in New England for over four months, and, sadly, the clock is still ticking since the last Western Region tournament.

Although social distancing precluded hugs and handshakes, the joy in the room was palpable when the Conway Cluster opened with the twenty-game Memorial Opener main tournament. For the first time in collective memory, an East Region tournament utilized the popular Central Region structure of the two-versus-ten format. Although the results from this author's unscientific poll showed that most players preferred the East's traditional one-versus-twenty format, everyone agreed that the modification minimized contact among players, which is the priority under current circumstances.

Visiting players from the Western Region dominated both the main and the consolation of the Memorial Opener. Dave Yaeger bested Phyllis Schmidt in the main, while Erik Locke defeated Ethan Guyaz ↓ in the consy. These victories further consolidated Erik's and Dave's positions as the #1 and #2 players in the ACC for the 2019–20 cribbage year.

Saturday found Crusty's Last Dance sadly lacking Crusty. Apparently the hollowed-out lobster shells used as trophies succumbed to the virus. Rumor has it that Crusty will make one final appearance next year for a proper farewell before forever exiting stage left.

Viewers of the main tournament finals were treated to a well-fought match going all five games between Rob Medeiros and Clay Collier, with the invisible Crusty eventually being awarded to Rob.

But the real drama was associated with the consolation tournament. Mark Soule began his day with a coffee run to Dunkin Donuts for his fellow tournament directors. Upon returning to the hotel, he found the perfect pothole to maximize coffee distribution within his car while continued on page 14 minimizing coffee consumption by the Fearsome Foursome.

Mark's dismal morning continued with a less-than-stellar performance in the main, but his prospects, not to mention his cards, improved in the afternoon when he qualified fifth in the consolation. Fortunately, or unfortunately as the case may be, his wife qualified fourth which saw Soule versus Soule in the playoffs.

Winning this most sensitive match, Mark advanced to the finals to play Bob Joslin, an incredibly gracious competitor who agreed to delay the start of competition until 10 p.m. This delay allowed Mark to play in the second night of the GRNT, which was held to help those clubs who had to reschedule theirs due to the coronavirus. Mark's night was as lucky as his morning had been unlucky, as he won both the GRNT and the consolation.

No one rested that Sunday, the final day of the Conway Cluster. The Mount Washington Open main tournament was won by Bob Fitzgerald after defeating Rick Allen in the finals.

And while every other 2020 Cluster tournament saw lower numbers than its 2019 predecessor, the Mount Washington Open consolation tournament was the exception to the rule. For the first time ever in New England, players had a chance to sample the Consy Lite format—and they liked it. The format combined the advantages of match play with perhaps the more influential factor of a shorter time commitment, prized on a getaway day. While the Cluster may have initiated the first Consy Lite in New England, it will definitely not be the last.

Finals of the Consy Lite offered a popcorn match between David Statz and Rob Medeiros, with honors going to David. Interestingly, Rob's second place finish in the Mount Washington consy and his first-place win in Crusty's main exactly matched his performance in 2019. Such parallelism in cluster tournaments is rare if not unprecedented. Perhaps Rob could capitalize on this phenomenon by limiting his future entry fees to just these two tournaments?

After four days, six tourneys, two satellites, and one GRNT, the Conway Cluster concluded. Cribbage has reopened, at least for now, in New England.

2020 ALL AMERICAN TEAM

The funny/weird/unique/horrifying (pick one) 2020 season ground to a close in New Hampshire on the last week of July.

The cribbage season normally closes in Raleigh NC with the National Open, but this long-running tourney fell prey to Covid restrictions—as did some forty other tourneys around the country. The North Conway tripleheader was originally scheduled for early June but was canceled; when the last weekend of the season became available and the health situation in New Hampshire improved somewhat, the NH directors scurried to fill the void. (See cover story for more details.)

The top ten players each season are recognized with All American awards, and this year's list sports both old and new names:

rank	MRPs	player
1	2076	Erik Locke (Wood Village OR)
2	1513	Dave Yaeger (Kettle Falls WA)
3	1399	Cy Madrone (Santa Barbara CA)
4	1043	Ann Trotter (Green Bay WI)
5	1013	Donna LaFleur (Bristol CT)
6	1004	Rob Medeiros (Dorchester MA)
7	967	Bob Joslin (Lakeville MN)
8	933	Donald Flesch (Brookfield WI)
9	910	Roland Hall (Napa CA)
10	895	Kathy Pacocha (Loveland CO)

All American Tidbits

• For the first time in six years, the Western Region had only five members on the All American Team. We have to go back to 2014 to find the last time this happened.

- This was Erik Locke's twelfth time as All American—and his fourth as national champion.
- The threshold to make All American this year ended up being 895 MRPs. Erik Locke passed this level when he won his fourth-round match at Grand National on October 27—a mere 88 days after the season started on August 1, 2019!
- For the first time in twelve years, Duane Toll did not make the All American Team, snapping a streak that started in 2008.
- Four players made their first appearance on the All American Team: Ann Trotter, Donna LaFleur, Bob Joslin, and Kathy Pacocha.
- For the first time in ACC history, two women were regional champions in the same year: Ann Trotter (Central Region) and Donna LaFleur (Eastern Region).
- In the 2018–19 season, Troy Thorson made the All American Team in the #10 slot; this year, Kathy Pacocha duplicated her husband's feat at #10.
- Five players have taken multiple cruises on the USS All American: Roland Hall (14 times), Cy Madrone (6), Robert Medeiros (5), Donald Flesch (4), and Dave Yaeger (twice, from two different regions).

Congratulations to all ten All Americans—both first-time and repeat! And may the upcoming season provide a return to cribbage normalcy. CW

NEW RULEBOOK

The 2020 rulebook is available. The Rules Committee, chaired by David O'Neil, logged many long hours bringing it into final form. For the first time, the rulebook was typeset in a landscape format, in part to distinguish it from previous iterations of the rulebook. It was examined and approved by all the BOD members and then printed by Wallace Carlson Printing—the longtime printer of Cribbage World.

Two copies of the rulebook were mailed to every Grass Roots club, and one copy was mailed to every ACC-certified judge.

In addition the rulebook is posted on the ACC's website in both PDF and flipbook. Go to cribbage.org/NewSite/rules to view these versions.

Extra copies of the rulebook are available for $2 from the ACC's membership secretary (address on the back cover of this CW).

Go forth and judge!

COOL STUFF ON THE WEB

Mary Ann Kelliher (The Villages FL) found an interesting article in her local newspaper about ACC member Joyce Lundeen (Winter Springs FL). Here is Mary Ann's email:

I first met Joyce at one of Dave Fournier's Grass Roots Regional Tournaments. She told me the story of how she got into cribbage. She was at a scrabble tournament in Reno and saw this large room filled with card players. Turns out it was cribbage. She went home and went online and got instructions on how to play cribbage. Taught herself and her husband. Joined Dave Fournier's Grass Roots club and became very competitive. She did not like to lose. They moved to The Villages about three years ago, and she came and played with our group a couple times but they became very involved with all the other activities. Doug and I had been getting most of our puzzles at one of our rec centers but they have been closed since March. I was told that there was a lady who was delivering puzzles to homes. Gave me her number and I signed up for delivery. Who walks up but Joyce!

MORE COOL STUFF ON THE WEB

We seldom give any thought to the single most important element of our game—playing cards. Every cribbage player worth his/her salt has at one time or another played a game of cribbage without a board and pegs, but is it impossible to play the game without cards.

Before we start a game, we commonly count the cards to make sure there are fifty-two of them, and we lightly scan them for defects. But beyond these cursory actions, we give little thought to the playing cards we use in every game we play. As important as they are to our game, get this—we don't even know where playing cards were invented, or by whom, or when!

Freelance writer Dan Nosowitz wrote a fascinating article about the history of playing cards for the always entertaining and educational website Atlas Obscura. To read the article, go to atlasobscura.com/articles/history-of-playing-cards.

But before you go there, a word of caution: Atlas Obscura is such a fun website to browse—with articles to tempt a wide variety of tastes—that CW hereby renounces all blame for the hours you'll spend there if you get hooked.

Favorite Cribbage Memorabilia

My husband and I joined Club 415 in November. One player, Dennis Misenar, suggested we read Play Winning Cribbage by DeLynn Colvert. We did! Then Dennis generously gave us this board where he had marked par holes using DeLynn's "twenty-six theory." Cherished because it is from a great player who enables others to become better cribbage players! —Leah Marston (Federal Way WA)

The Inside Track by Rob Medeiros ●●●●● ●●●●● ●●●●●

I always say the key to successful pegging is excellent detective work. Let's examine a case today!

You are tied at 25 as dealer; you keep 7-7-7-K and throw J-Q to your crib. The cut is an 8, and the pone leads a Q. Obviously you play your 7. Th pone responds with a 4, so now what to do? The count is 21 and you have a King, so what's to think about, Rob? It's an open-and-shut case! Well perhaps, but let's think about it for a second.

When the pone plays a 4 to make it 21 on his second play, it has to ring some alarm bells. Would the pone lead a Q with three 4s backing it up. That seems pretty unlikely, so what hands could he have to make such a play? I think the two most logical "suspects" are 5-5 and 5-6, so let's see how our remaining three cards peg against each one of those hands.

If the pone has 5-5, and we take the immediate 31 with our King, we outpeg the pone 3–0, but if we play the 7 we outpeg them 4–0, giving us a one-point advantage in playing the 7 as our second card.

Let's examine 5-6 now: if we play the 7 we will outpeg the pone either 2–0 or 4–0 depending on their lead on the second pegging sequence. But what if we play our King to get the immediate 31? The remains pegging goes 6-7-5-7. Oops! We give up a three-card run.

The pegging is tied at 3–3, so in both scenarios the 7 is the correct play if our theory of the "crime" is correct. When you see a play that looks strange, always take a few seconds to analyze the crime scene!

Internet Cribbage by Tammy Gibbons (Internet Commish)

Congratulations to Mike Fetchel (mfetchct425)—internet champion for the 2019–20 season! Mike was the very first internet champ back in 2004, and this is his fifth championship!

Internet cribbage saw an uptick during the Covid crisis. With 40ish live tournaments canceled, many players who travel the Tournament Trail were looking for an alternative. Internet cribbage picked up some of the slack, with weekly tournaments on GameColony, ecribbage, and Cribbage Pro. Since mid-March, well over one hundred ACC members registered to play online cribbage.

ANNOUNCEMENT • ANNOUNCEMENT • ANNOUNCEMENT

The Executive Committee is happy to announce the appointment of Sally Henderson (Grand Rapids MI) as new internet commissioner. Her official start date is September 1, but she will work with outgoing commissioner Tammy Gibbons to make a gradual transition. The ACC thanks Tammy for her six years of dedicated work as commissioner, and we wish Sally all the best as she steps into an important job in the ACC.

The answer is fairly simple: the reopening of clubs and tournaments is dependent on local and state regulations. If allowed by law, then the ACC sanctions them; if not allowed by law, then the ACC will withdraw sanctioning. In other words, the ACC adheres to all relevant national, state, county, and local laws and regulations whether related to Covid-19 or any other aspect of modern life. A word of caution: always check with the TD before traveling to a tourney to avoid a last-minute cancellation.

Lessons from the Master

DeLynn may be gone, but he's not forgotten. For those among us who never read his book Play Winning Cribbage or have forgotten what we read—here is DeLynn's advice on pegging with face cards, \clubsuit taken from the January 2001 Cribbage World, page 9.

by DeLynn Colvert The J-Q For Last

When holding four face cards (or three face cards) always try to hold a jack-queen for your last two. This will give you an extra four cards to score on in the pegging sequence.

Example: You are holding a 10-J-Q-K. Your opponent leads a 4. Play the king. Your opponent plays a A for 15-2. Which card to play? The 10! Holding the J-Q for last will give you an extra 4 cards to score a run on the next sequence. You cover all face cards (and 10) on the next lead. Only two queens (or two jacks) can burn you!

Your lead: Play the King, then the 10, (or vice-versa if a 10 or K is cut, leading to match the cut card) holding the J-Q for last. Your pegging will improve!

Cribbage Board of the Month BY JAY FULWIDER his month I am featuring a cribbage board ashtray. It is a cribbage board I could have used when I started college in 1963. At the University of Washington, the main lecture hall had theater seats with a pull-over desktop that held an ashtray. I was a smoker, and they allowed smoking during class. We could also smoke in the dorms. This board would have been perfect for my dorm room.

I managed to party my way out of school in two quarters, so I joined the Air Force instead of waiting for the draft. In computer tech school, at Sheppard AFB, we could also smoke in class. and I was up to two packs a day. It was time to guit smoking, but I was sent to Thailand, where smokes and beer were almost free. Still party time!

After the Air Force, I got married, went back to college, quit smoking, kept playing cribbage, and started collecting boards. The old days were fun though.

This board is made of plastic with a Bakelite ashtray. Bakelite was invented in 1907 and was used in electric products because it was very resilient to heat. That makes it perfect for an ashtray. This board is labeled "Crib-Tray" and was made in Canada. I believe it is from the 1950s or '60s. If anyone out there knows the name of the manufacturer of this board, please email me with the info. Jay Fulwider collects cribbage boards from his home in picturesque Washington State, where he also enjoys golf, fishing, and racquetball. His philosophy on the key to life: "Just keep your pegs moving." Ideas for and questions about this column may be sent to him at budandotis@msn.com (put "Cribbage Board" in the subject line).

40 Years Ago

Page 2 states: "Cribbage is one of the very few major games in which the memory does not play an important part." Interestingly, lower down on this page is a contrary statement: "An educated player seems to be 'luckier' than others." Since education involves memory, this CW editor is going to disagree with the first statement. In the short term, it is important to remember what two cards you discarded; this is helpful in both guiding your pegging (e.g., if you threw 3-3 into your crib, then making the count 28 instead of 27 is the smart play) and knowing whether to play offense or defense (e.g., throwing 3-3 with a Deuce cut tells you that you might have six or more points in the crib)-but this info helps only if you remember what you threw. In the long term, memory of your opponent's tendencies, of how to run pegging traps, of probabilities—all of these help improve your game. So forty years on, this CW editor disagrees with the 1980 statement that memory is not part of our game.

25 Years Ago

Rit Alkas (Manchester CT) won both the National Open in Raleigh NC and the 1995 national championship. Rit was elected to the Hall of Fame in 2002. In his first year of ACC play, Rob Medeiros (then of Quincy MA, now of Dorchester MA) placed second nationally. The late great DeLynn Colvert (Missoula MT) won the 144-player Devil Mountain Caper in Martinez CA.

GAME ON by Dan Zeisler

Youth Teaching Tip

It is a top goal of the ACC to attract and maintain a strong membership for many years to come. Unfortunately, the trend is that our numbers are on the decline rather than on the rise. We are doing what we can to attract our youngest players through the promotion of teaching cribbage in schools and social organizations. As a result of these efforts our youth memberships are at an all-time high. This is wonderful, but there is so much more we can do to reach out to potential future cribbage players of all ages. Wouldn't it be spectacular to see growth in our number of tournament players? One idea is to have Grass Roots Clubs across the country advertise and hold teaching clinics for people of all ages curious about the game. This can be done on alternating weeks or evenings that don't conflict with Grass Roots play. If any director or club member wishes to take on this meaningful task, I can certainly help by providing lesson plans and teaching advice to conduct successful classes. If any Clubs are already doing this, please shoot me an email at danthefan@yahoo.com and let me know how it's working out.

Cribbage and/in Pop Culture

In the 1973 Oscar-winning movie The Sting, characters played by Robert Redford and Paul Newman are seen playing cribbage at the 1h 45m 50s mark while they discuss the upcoming sting.

Playing on a short board and with the cards already dealt, Newman cuts the deck, Redford turns over the starter card, and Newman leads. The count goes 10-20-30-go-31. The possibility that the sting could misfire overcomes Redford, and he drops his cards on the table in exasperation. No more cribbage is played.

IN MEMORY OF CRIBBAGE FRIENDS

Del Faulkner

Del Faulkner—one of the most beloved members in Club 340 in Surrey BC passed away on June 15. Del dealt with several age-related issues over the past few years but he never stopped smiling and sharing his enthusiasm for playing cribbage and being among friends. He had been active in the local cribbage community since the 1970s; he was among the first group of Canadian Doubles players. He joined Club 340 soon after being introduced to the ACC. Failing eyesight inhibited Del's ability to drive to tournaments, but someone was always happy to provide Del with a lift, and he always showed his appreciation by offering a contribution for gas or purchasing a beverage for his chauffeur. Del was a courteous gentleman who we all feel fortunate to have known. At Club 340's ACC tournament last August, Del was on the team that captured first place in Canadian Doubles.

Milton Goodman

Milt Goodman (Mission Viejo CA) passed away on August 6 at age ninety-nine. A member of the ACC since its founding, Milt was well known throughout southern California for his play in many tournaments, and especially for his comefrom-behind wins. Milt was a member of the team that developed the Manhattan Project at the University of Chicago, where he probably started playing cribbage, and later was a professor of mathematics at the University of Minnesota. Never married, but very active in sports when younger, Milt was a mountain climber and sky diver. He will be sorely missed by all his cribbage friends and especially by his last club: #419 in Laguna Woods.

Roy Grayson

Roy Grayson (Sharpsburg GA) passed away on July 23 at home. An avid cribbage and bridge player, Roy turned ninety-seven years young on April 12. He was born and lived most of his life in the Chicago area. He will be missed by his clubmates at Club 144 in Peachtree City GA.

Ron McKee

The storytelling hearty laughter of Ron McKee (Ridgefield WA) ended on August 3 at age eighty-one. When Ron and Marlene stumbled upon Grass Roots cribbage, their lives changed; instead of going to casinos to play keno, they began following the Tournament Trail. Travel reservations were made a year in advance. Without a doubt, Ron loved everything about cribbage and all of the friend he made. Wednesday nights at Club 426 in Battle Ground WA could not come quickly enough. Ron and Marlene played their usual nine daily games just hours before the stroke took his life. He practically died with his pegs in his hand. Ron is survived by Marlene, his wife of sixty-three years and eight months. He will be missed by his family and all his cribbage friends.

Rhonda Rogers

Club 346 in Cherokee NC lost a cherished member. Rhonda "Sassy" Rogers (Dillsboro NC) passed away at the way too early age of fifty-four. Those of us lucky enough to know Rhonda will miss her warm smile, her ready laugh, and her friendship. Sassy came to Club 346 as a complete cribbage novice, and one of the great aspects of the game is watching a quality person in all other aspects of life grow into a quality player who won and lost with the same grace of character. Her passing will be deeply felt by club members, her fellow dealers at the Cherokee Casino, and by her loving husband, Alan.

Grass Roots

The 2019–2020 season ended with a whimper on August 16. Congrats to all the club champions. Hopefully your venues open up for the next season!

Club 202 (Boise ID) had not one, not two, but three 28-hands on August 10! The lucky hands went to Laurie Logan, Gary Winn, and Lois Child.

Club 240 (Roseville MN) has been one of the hotter clubs this year. Two weeks into the Grass Roots restart, Karen Goodale scored a 28-hand.

Beer City Peggers Club 71 (Grand Rapids MI)—see story on page 4.

Club 356 (La Grande OR) had only five players, so they called Terry Bond and he gamely made the ninety-mile roundtrip from Baker City to La Grande.
